Will Commemorate Memory Of Veterans Of Five Wars With Impressive Exercises Today

Through flag-bedecked streets over the route which President Abraham Lincoln followed to participate in the dedication of the final resting place of 3,000 Union soldiers who lost their lives in the Battle of Gettysburg, another procession will wend its way this afternoon to pay renewed honor to the dead of five wars who died buried in the Gettysburg National cemetery.

The first out-of-town visitors, drawn to this historic town for the 84th annual Memorial Day rites this afternoon, began arriving this morning. Many visitors and hundreds of townspeople made pilgrimages to the graves of their own dead today, not only in the National cemetery, but in Evergreen, the "Citizens" cemetery, and other resting places. These visits of remembrance and placing of floral tributes were duplicated in cemeteries throughout the county.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Nine of the nineteen survivors of the Civil War, the youngest of whom is 102 years of age, attended the last Reunion of the Blue and Gray here in 1938. At that time 1,845 veterans of that war were in Gettysburg. Last year, 13 years later, there were 43 veterans in the country. Last March there were 26. Today there are 19. Last Friday John Arthur Morcum, 97, a youngster compared with the others, died at his home near Danville, Arkansas.

Eighty-eight years ago (1863) there were more than 4,000,000 veterans. Now six men who fought in the Union army and 13 who fought with the Confederates survive. The nine who were here in 1938 are:

JUDGE SHEELY TALKS TO GRADS AT YORK SPRINGS

"The course of the future depends upon the basic philosophy of life held by each and every one of us," Judge W. C. Sheely told the graduating class of York Springs high school Tuesday evening at annual commencement exercises held by the North Adams joint school system at the York Springs firemen's hall.

"If men are good, society is good," he noted, "if men are evil, society is evil. So, basically, the future depends on how each of us lives his life, and how we live depends entirely on our basic philosophy of life."

Noting that "no one can predict the future," the jurist added: "Often we are discouraged. We see the possibility of atomic war, we see communism gaining over the world—destroying life as we know it. Such things test the moral fiber of our people. We wonder about the future. But there is something we can do about it individually—and that is to perfect our own lives."

Awards Presented
He concluded his remarks by asserting: "God has a work for all of us, and joy and purpose in life lie in finding that work."

About 300 jammed the firemen's hall for the exercises. Richard Spertzel was presented with the Readers' Digest valedictorian award by Wilbur Cassell, supervising principal of the school. Romane Spertzel was given the commercial award and the alumni award based on scholarship, leadership, character and service was awarded by Paul E. Trump, president of the alumni association, to Earl Ralph Guise.

Charles I. Raffensperger, assistant county superintendent of schools, presented Richard Oscar Spertzel with the four-year senatorial scholarship he won by being first in the examination given the participants in the annual American Legion essay contest and also presented Spertzel with the fourth place award he won in the Legion essay contest. Raffensperger reported the York Springs graduate plans to enter the University of Pennsylvania.

SEMINARIANS TO BE MARRIED THIS AFTERNOON

Two young people whose homes lie half-way around the world will be married this afternoon in the Church of the Abiding Presence—and they will leave in June to be in charge of a newly established Lutheran orphanage in Palestine.

The bride will be Miss Aina Oxolins, who fled her native Riga, Latvia, when enemy troops poured into it. She came, with her mother, one of the millions of displaced persons in the world, and finally arrived in the United States, coming to the Lutheran seminary here to continue her studies.

Fuad Nucho, the bridegroom, is a native of Palestine. A son of Navef Nucho, of El-Husn, Jordan, he came to the United States to study for the Lutheran ministry. He graduated this month from the Gettysburg Lutheran theological seminary, and will be ordained as a minister in the near future.

Dr. John Aberly, one-time missionary to India and for many years president of the local seminary, will perform the single ring ceremony this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

For the wedding the bride will wear a white brocaded tulle gown with a train, a finger-tip veil of tulle and will carry a white Bible, topped with a white orchid.

Robert S. Clippinger, organist at the seminary, will present a brief recital and will play the traditional wedding music during the service. He will also accompany the soloist, the Rev. Richard Ehrhart, Lutheran, Md., who will be Franklin Keller, Carl Ehrhart, Rev. Harold

In the flower line, large bunches of "cemetery flowers" were sold for 75 cents a bunch. Small bunches were 25 cents. These mixed bouquets included "Proud Henry" or "Sassy Betsy," peonies, mock orange, painted daisies, sweet williams, beauty bush, honey locust, iris, roses and fern leaves.

Peonies alone sold for $1 a dozen. Some roses were five cents each, and others, with longer stems, were four for 25 cents.

There was very little in the food line offered on the market this morning. A few chickens, at 60 cents a pound; cookies at 25 cents a dozen and eggs at 55 cents a dozen were offered.

GHS ALUMNI SET NEW RECORD AT 49TH BANQUET

Gathering in larger numbers than ever before, Gettysburg high school alumni held their annual banquet and dance at the high school Tuesday evening.

Highlighting the program were the presentation of the annual alumni scholarship prizes to Jean Mountain and Harold Raffensperger of the senior class, class reunions and plans for a gala 50th anniversary celebration next May.

Retiring President John H. Baschore was master of ceremonies for the banquet and program with 420 graduates and seniors in attendance. The dance followed in the gymnasium where guests swelled the crowd.

Old Grads Introduced
Led by Mrs. Charles B. Dougherty of the class of 1886, who was marking the 65th anniversary of her graduation from high school here, old grads returned for class reunions about the banquet tables in the old gymnasium.

Seven alumni who were graduated before the turn of the century were introduced. They were Mrs. Dougherty; Miss Minnie Spangler of the class of 1887; Miss Margaret McMillan, class of '93, who said hers was the first class graduated by Prof. Hunter from the southwest corner room of the High Street building; Miss Alice Williams and Gertrude Hoffman, class of 1896; Miss Isabelle Griffith, 1897, and the first class graduated from Meade school building; and Virginia Tawney Slentz of the class of '98. Miss Williams spoke for the 55th reunion class and read a newspaper clipping telling of her graduation exercises for a class of nine.

The alumni assembled in the auditorium and were called to the banquet hall by reunion classes. After the singing of the doxology, the Rev. Charles Stevens, 31, New Kingston, Pa., gave the invocation. There was group singing and President Baschore formally welcomed (Continued on Page 3)

Americans, The World Over, Honor All Their Soldier Dead

Washington, May 30 (P)—Traditional Memorial Day services were arranged today at Arlington National cemetery, center of the nation's tribute to its war dead.

President Truman was to be represented during wreath-laying ceremonies (11:30 a.m., EST) at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington by two White House aides. The Grand Army of the Republic also scheduled exercises at the Unknown Soldier's tomb, with Harold E. Stassen as principal speaker.

Frankfurt, Germany, May 30 (P)—

America's fighting men in Europe today memorialized their war dead as fresh troops rolled to posts along the Western defense line.

Memorial Day services were held throughout the U. S. Army's European command but they were brief so as not to hamper the bulwarking against Communist aggression.

Wreath-laying ceremonies and pilgrimages to cemeteries took a sharp and somber significance against the backdrop of the Russian threat and fighting in Korea.

In France services were held at some 15 cemeteries to honor American war dead.

Morning observances were highlighted by a service in the newly-refurbished cemetery near Cherbourg, resting place for men killed in a Civil War naval battle between the Confederate frigate Alabama and the Yankee frigate

OUTLINES WORK OF EXTENSION SERVICE HERE

The work of the State College extension service, and particularly the home economics department in Adams county, was related to members of the Exchange club at their regular weekly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Banker's restaurant by Miss Mary Jane Mickey, the county home economics representative.

Miss Mickey said extension work was established in 1914 in Pennsylvania, first for agriculture, and a few years later for the women.

"Its chief function is to improve farm and home living," she said. "It is an example of democracy at work. The people themselves plan what they want to do. Our work is chiefly among farm people, but there is no reason why we can't work with all. In fact, in some counties in Pennsylvania, that is where our work is, because there are few rural residents."

Divided Program

"The extension work is open to anyone interested in learning in agriculture or in the home. The home economics activities are divided into two groups, the adults during the winter and the youth during the summer."

Detailing the activities of the 4-H program, Miss Mickey said it was divided into foods and nutrition, clothing, home management and child development. In addition to meetings of the various groups, Miss Mickey said she also made farm visits, and said that circular letters were sent out and many State College bulletins were available, free of charge. She said radio broadcasts and the newspapers aid in the work. For those who cannot attend meetings, there are correspondence courses in various subjects, she added.

"In Adams county, we have 15 home economics clubs and eight agriculture groups," she said. "We try to give them experience in conducting meetings and in planning and leadership, and we encourage them to carry on projects."

Other Activities
"For those over 15 years of age, we have the county-wide 4-H council as a means of keeping the young people interested in 4-H work."

Among other activities listed by Miss Mickey were rural life vesper services, a day camp, 4-H roundup, "fun night" and exhibits at the (Continued on Page 2)

Pair Arrested For Defrauding Hotel

Calvin O. Woodward, 19, who gave his home address as Orange and Charlottesville, Va., and Melvin H. Frye, 20, Fullen Timber, Cambria county, were arrested Monday night by Hanover police on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace P. Loy Lindaman, Littlestown. Both were charged with fraud against a hotel, being accused of having left Littlestown without paying their lodging bill.

The informations were laid by Elwin L. Chronister, operator of the Central Tavern, 36 South Queen street, Littlestown. Both men had been working for a tree surgery company. When taken to police headquarters and questioned by local officers Monday night, Woodward and Frye admitted to the officers that they were AWOL from the army. WORLD TO HEAR SERVICES HERE

Gettysburg's Memorial Day exercises will be broadcast around the world via the Voice of America.

At the request of the Voice of America, WGET will record the entire program it is broadcasting locally during the Memorial services this afternoon. The program will include a description of the parade, of the ritual services in the cemetery and placing of flowers on the graves and the exercises at the rostrum.

At New York the Voice of America will translate the descriptions and speech by Governor McKeldin into many languages and transmit the program throughout the world.

Under the program as planned by the Voice of America, the local program will be presented in its entirety, with the local voices heard for a few moments then faded down into the background as the translator repeats what was said.

WHVR, Hanover, will make a tape recording of the rostrum exercises to be broadcast at a later hour over the Hanover station.

SEEK TO RESCUE TRAPPED MINERS

Easington, Eng., May 30 (AP)—Rescue crews clanked through treacherous tons of debris today in a seemingly hopeless race to reach 66 British miners sealed off 900 feet below ground.

Fifteen others—all dead—had been accounted for, but there was no word yet of the 66 buried at their work deep in the big Easington coal mine by an unexplained explosion yesterday morning.

The death of a rescue worker yesterday from a rush of poison air brought the known fatalities to 16.

"Hope is receding. It is not a forlorn hope, although it is not a miracle if any of the men now get out alive," a mine official told newsmen.

The rescue work went on throughout the night, while a small cluster of relatives gathered quietly in the glare of the big spotlight at the pit head. Names of survivors, they were told, would be posted on the bulletin board there—but there was none this morning.

Draft Tests Data Ready In A Month

Washington, May 30 (AP)—College men who took their Selective Service aptitude tests Saturday may have to wait a month or longer to learn their scores.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said in a radio interview (LBS) on Sunday that the Educational Testing service, Princeton, N. J., will report the scores directly to local draft boards. He added that students who took the test might start asking their boards in "about a month from now x x x if they've heard from Princeton."

An estimated 175,000 took the test Saturday. Another 225,000 are expected to take it June 16, June 30 or July 12.

Draft boards have been authorized to consider scores of 70 or better a basis for possible deferment of a student who wishes to continue his education.

Joe Adonis Given 2-3-Year Sentence

Hackensack, N. J., May 30 (AP)—Big shot racketeer Joe Adonis was sentenced to two to three years in state prison and fined $15,000 Monday for violating New Jersey gambling laws.

It was the first jail sentence ever imposed on the 49-year-old Adonis, who was named by the Senate crime committee as one of the nation's most notorious gamblers.

Superior Court Judge J. Wallace Leyden, who imposed sentence, also suspended an additional five-year prison term.

Another Precedent Set By Ridgway

Tokyo, May 30 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway set another precedent today—he called a news conference.

It was something his predecessor, General MacArthur, had never done. In 1947 MacArthur spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Tokyo Correspondents club. He occasionally took newsmen on his trips to Korea and talked to others at airfields.

But never, in all his five years as top army and occupation commander, did MacArthur meet the press at a formal news conference.

Tokyo, May 30 (AP)—Red China has announced it is taking over Tibet—under the guise of a treaty of liberation. The Peiping radio in a broadcast heard here said the terms provided for Red Chinese control of Tibet's national defense, foreign affairs and trade.

The Chinese Red army invaded the lofty Himalayan land of the Buddhist lamas (priests) last October. Tibet's rag-tag troops were routed in eastern Tibet without putting up a major fight but the Chinese were unable to take Lhasa, the capital.

Washington, May 30 (AP)—Senator Anderson (D-NM) said Monday Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was all wrong in asserting the MacArthur dispute will hurt President Truman's chances if he runs for re-election.

"I said in January 1949 that I expected Harry Truman to be re-elected in '52," Anderson told a reporter. "I still feel that way about it. Nothing has happened to change my mind a particle."

The representatives did not actually vote on the articles of impeachment. Okell's resolution died on a motion for indefinite postponement after a special committee appointed to study the impeachment proposal reported that none of the 11 articles was "legally sufficient."

Warren could not be reached for comment.

Urge Fund Drive For Presbyterians

Cincinnati, May 30 (AP)—A group of financial advisers recommended Tuesday that members of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., contribute an additional $24,000,000 in a 30-month campaign.

The money, a special committee of churchmen advised the church's General Assembly, is "urgently" needed for the development of new churches and for expansion of theological seminaries in which ministers are trained.

The committee told the assembly that $30,000,000 really was needed. This would provide new buildings for both foreign and national missions. But the committee expressed fear that a drive for $30,000,000 would result in failure.

HOME RUN OFF LEMON MARS PERFECT GAME

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

One swipe of the bat by Vic Wertz cost Bob Lemon an opportunity to join the six pitching immortals who have hurled perfect big league games.

The ace Cleveland righthander spun a brilliant 2-1 victory over Detroit in yesterday's only action preceding today's holiday double-headers. But that circuit clout by Wertz cost Lemon: 1—A perfect game; 2—A no-hitter; 3—A shutout.

The homer came in the eighth inning, the only Tiger hit. Wertz was the only Tiger base-runner. Lemon did not walk or hit a batter. The Indians made no errors behind him.

Moved Down 21

Until Wertz came to bat, Lemon had mowed down 21 consecutive batters. He threw a strike past the Tiger slugger, first to face him in the eighth. The next pitch landed in the upper right field stands.

"It was a slider," Lemon growled after the game. "It wasn't high. It wasn't low. It was just right—for him."

The last spotless pitching performance was turned in by Charley Robertson, of the Chicago White Sox, who whipped the Tigers on April 30, 1922. The score was 2-0.

Other perfect game pitchers were John Richmond, Worcester, 1880; John Montgomery Ward, Providence, 1880; Cy Young, Boston Red Sox, 1904; Addie Joss, Cleveland, 1907; and Ernie Shore, Red Sox, 1917.

Although hundreds have come within one safety of pitching a hitless game, only nine have lost their no-hitter by tossing a home run ball.

Here's The List

Here is a list of the pitchers, with the spoilers in parentheses.

July 4, 1919—Jess Barnes, Giants vs. Phillies (Gavvy Cravath).

May 24, 1933—Tom Bridges, Tigers vs. Senators (Joe Kuhel).

July 8, 1934—Jim Deshong, Yankees vs. Athletics (Jimmy Fox).

June 30, 1937—Lefty Gomez, Yankees vs. Athletics (Bob Johnson).

June 5, 1943—Carl Hubbell, Giants vs. Pirates (Elbie Fletcher).

August 11, 1943—Steve Sundra, Browns vs. Yankees (Charlie Keller).

Sept. 10, 1946—Kirby Higbe, Dodgers vs. Phillies (Frank McCormick).

April 26, 1951—Conrado Marrero, Senators vs. Athletics (Barney McCosky).

May 29, 1951—Bob Lemon, Indians vs. Tigers (Vic Wertz).

Lemon's one-hitter was the fifth of the season in the majors. It was the first Bob ever hurled, although he pitched a no-hitter against the same Tigers in Briggs stadium June 30, 1948.

In winning his fourth game against five defeats, Lemon fanned seven yesterday. Of the other 21 batters who faced him, 13 grounded out, six flied to the outfield, one lined to the infield.

Al Rosen batted in both Cleveland runs, one with a double.

Wilmington—Call Over, $25.90, won Wilmington handicap as Delaware Park opened.

Tribe Pays Huge Bonus For Hurler

Cleveland, May 30 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians—at huge expense—have acquired an 18-year-old pitcher who they think may have the makings of another Bob Feller.

Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg personally escorted Billy Joe Davidson back here yesterday after the youth was graduated from Oak Ridge Military academy, a North Carolina prep school.

The Indians said they paid the six-foot-one, 211-pound hurler the largest bonus ever given a player to sign. The exact amount wasn't disclosed, but Tribe publicist Marsh Samuel said it was more than $100,000.

Reports from other sources said the Indians had to plank down from $120,000 to $150,000 to outbid 12 other major league clubs seeking the youth.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 30 (AP)—Every time they have to turn on the lights in the middle of an afternoon ball game, there's a bit of discussion—sometimes a real rhubarb—about a club getting the "advantage" of better lighting.

The Braves' Billy Southworth isn't a guy to protest about such things, but he goes eagerly for the suggestion that umpires be equipped with some such device as a photographer's exposure meter to tell them just when the lights should be used.

"It might work," says Billy. "I've seen the engineers using meters to check how many candlepower the lights put on every part of the field. Of course, those are great big things and the umpire's pockets are full of balls, so he'd have to have something small."

Of course I don't object any time they decide to turn on the lights. A man might get hurt there when it's too dark."

TIME TO LEAVE

Southworth's current peeve (after losing ball games) is that some games are dragged out too long. "In six games against Cincinnati we've averaged only an hour and 40 minutes," Bill says. "Our games with Chicago have averaged less than two hours. We only have real trouble in Brooklyn and New York. They have conferences after every pitch."

Southworth went through an elaborate pantomime to show how Preacher Roe fiddles around before each pitch, then continued: "Bill Klem used to have the cure for that. He'd warn them first to deliver the pitch in 20 seconds after the ball was returned, and he'd make them do it."

For the second year, William and Mary will open its basketball season in Madison Square Garden, playing NYU December 1.

Perrier argues that a golfer on the pro tournament trail can't stand the expense "unless he can find an angel, either in business or in matrimony."

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

The Hagerstown Braves ran their winning streak to 12 games last night, defeating the York White Roses 4 to 2.

The victory gave them a three and a half game margin over second place Lancaster in the Interstate league standings. The Lancaster-Allentown game was postponed because of rain.

Harrisburg beat Sunbury 6 to 3, and Wilmington shut out Salisbury 5 to 0 on Johnny Walz' six-hitter.

The league met in executive session yesterday to make formal arrangements for the circuit's all-star game scheduled for July 9 and to digest first reports of the 1951 season.

Secretary Bill McKechnie disclosed that Lancaster, with 16,500 paid admissions, is leading the league in attendance, and that total attendance so far—96,500—is running slightly ahead of last year's figures.

Site of the all star game and its managers will be announced later.

The last such game in the league was played in Trenton, which has withdrawn from the loop, in 1946.

Today's games, all doubleheaders: Sunbury at Harrisburg, Hagerstown at York, Wilmington at Salisbury, and Lancaster at Allentown.

CHARLES RATES 3-1 FAVORITE AGAINST MAXIM

Chicago, May 30 (AP)—Ezzard Charles rules a steadfast 3-1 favorite to retain his heavyweight boxing championship tonight in Chicago stadium against challenger Joe Maxim, the sleek light-heavy king.

Despite the rarity of two champions battling and the promise of a lively brawl from the start, the turnout may number only 7,000 to 10,000 with a gross gate of less than $100,000.

More than 30 million persons will see and hear the scheduled 15-round title showdown on television and radio (CBS). The bout begins at 10 p.m.

They are to weigh in at noon. Charles is expected to scale 183; Maxim 181.

A brewery has assured financial success for the International Boxing Club show by paying $100,000 for TV rights. Charles' share will be 40 percent of the net receipts and television payment. Maxim will get 20 percent of both.

Three-Time Winner

Charles, 29, generally is favored to defend successfully his heavyweight crown for the eighth time in 23 months because he has defeated Maxim in three previous meetings. Twice in 10-rounders back in 1942 the Cincinnati negro outpointed the 28-year-old Cleveland Italian, and he won a split 15-round decision in his home town 27 months ago.

The first two fights should be discounted since both men had barely emerged from the amateur ranks at that time.

Maxim has everything to gain and not much to lose in the heavyweight brawl which he has waited for patiently for more than a year. He still will have his 175 pound crown should he lose and already is signed to defend it against Bob Satterfield in Chicago stadium June 27. If he wins he forfeits the light-heavy belt.

Charles is geared by I.B.C. plans to meet the winner of the Louis-Lee Savold scrap. Should he lose to Maxim a return match between the two is guaranteed by contract within three months.

NEW DRIVERS AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, May 30 (AP)—A new crop of drivers, toughened on fair grounds tracks and the "high banks" circuit, challenged a little group of shrewd veterans today in the 35th running of the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis motor speedway.

Starting time was 11 a.m. (eastern standard time), with a warm, cloudy day forecast.

It was a hell-on-wheels lineup that already had produced seven 10-mile qualification runs faster than the previous record.

Bill Holland's 1949 record for the full 500 miles, 121.327 miles an hour, was almost certain to fall if the weather held good and there weren't too many wrecks.

Holland wasn't in the lineup to protect his record. The Miami tavern owner was under suspension from the American Automobile association for competing in a non-AAA sanctioned race last fall.

America's most patient sports crowd—prepared to watch more than four hours of racing after waiting outside the gates for hours and even days—was expected to approach a record. What the record is, the speedway has never told, but the general guess is 150,000 plus.

New Castle climbed into a third place tie by beating Lockport 7-3 behind the steady pitching of Paul Klatter. Third Baseman Chet Butler started at the plate with two singles and a double.

THE GREAT MASTERS

No matter how people flock to art that is termed "modern," I note that no one apparently dares to sell the Old Masters short! They are still priceless and will forever remain so. Oh, a millionaire may buy one now and then for a half a million or so, but even that does not express the real value of one bought, or of any masterpiece in art.

Great art is something immortal for it has within it the hidden heart of the master who created it. In my office hangs a painting by a very great artist, Alphonse Legros, a Frenchman who later became a British subject because France didn't appreciate him. The picture is of a peasant woman, and it is only partially finished—apparently—yet it is finished, for the soul of the artist is in it. It is a daily inspiration to me, and to many who have seen it. I look upon it as priceless though it cost a very small sum many years ago.

The great Masters took time to paint or sculpture. Most of them died poor, or were never rich—excepting in the treasures they bequeathed to the world and to posterity's love of beauty. How would you start to appraise a Leonardo, a Rembrandt, a Vermeer, or a Goya? I have read that "no work of art is really ever finished. They only stop at good places." How true that is! For many years I collected the examples of etchings done by a selected group whose work appealed to me. I learned that the "first states" were usually most to be desired, for the artists usually should have stopped with that one, rather than continuing into several states. The best story seemed told in the first proofs from the plate, of the first state.

Study the drawings of the great Masters and you will note the simplicity, power, and movement, of these drawings. They were usually drawn to be translated later into paintings. The late French artist Forain was a very great painter, but I have always liked his etchings the best for their simplicity, power, and message. He did wonders with a few lines cut into the copper plate. The great Masters sought for beauty and permanence.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Love The Thing You Do."

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

When driving a car, night, noontime or morn.
The brake is a safer device than the horn.
But when it appears that a stop you must make,
Slowing down is much better than trusting the brake.

Next to "horn-blowing driving," the worst of mistakes
Is speed which compels you to slam on the brakes.
For the stop unexpected, keep both space and time.
No car has been made that can "stop on a dime."

All teachers of driving their pupils should warn
Against the folly of putting their trust in the horn.
Adding: Safety is worth the few seconds it takes
And to slow down is safer than trusting the brakes.

...a Time for Greatness

For the first time in all history, science has put in human hands two completely opposed powers. We have the knowledge and the means to destroy mankind by total war. We have also the knowledge and the ability to provide all the people of the earth with at least a measure of comfort and plenty.

Which Shall It Be: Swords Or Plowshares?

Like men of good will everywhere, we Americans know how we would choose. For ourselves and for others we want freedom, friendship, peace and security.

Our nation's foreign policy has been directed for several years primarily at the "containment of Communism". Our reliance has been placed increasingly on military force to deter possible aggression. It has been assumed that this is the only means by which we can achieve an honorable peace.

Perhaps the time has come when every American should soberly reconsider this assumption.

Where do we stand today? We talk of rearming the countries we fought to disarm. We are losing the confidence of our friends in Europe and in Asia. Absorbed in trying to checkmate a handful of men in the Kremlin, we have forgotten the millions of human beings for whom the real enemy is hunger, poverty and lack of opportunity.

Even for ourselves the hope of security, freedom and peace grows more remote, and the danger of losing our basic liberties increases. By choosing the way of the sword we face only two alternatives. One is the possibility that we may be hastening the very war we would avert. The other, hardly less grim, is the prospect of a global stalemate of indefinite duration—years of fear and hate, in which two great powers, armed to the teeth, wait for one or the other to crack under the strain.

Is There No Other Way?

On our country and on each citizen falls the moral responsibility of answering that question—of coming to grips with it again and again, whatever others do. Fundamentally, we are a generous and peace-loving people. We Americans must do all in our power to find a better way.

The American Friends Service Committee believes there is a better way; a way consistent at once with the law of God and the precepts of democracy. It recommends to America a brave and positive peace offensive. "For God gave us not the spirit of fear but of power and love and of a sound mind."

WE ENCOURAGE EVERY AMERICAN TO SUPPORT THESE STEPS TO PEACE

1 A new kind of negotiation. America should seek not so much to impose as to listen. The situation demands that we forget protocol, national pride, vituperation and formalities in a strong lead toward genuine discussion. A new approach to negotiation might include, as in labor disputes, less publicity during sessions but full publicity of results, more flexibility in the instructions given negotiators; more use of skilled, neutral mediators; and at least on our side an open minded approach to matters at issue as problems to be solved rather than as public debates or contests to be won.

2 Strengthening of the United Nations as a peace-making agency. This, rather than waging war, was its original purpose. The UN should include without prejudice, as was first intended, all governments willing to accept the responsibilities of membership. Fully a dozen such nations, not counting colonies, are not yet members. In an armed and divided world, the United Nations should act as a mediator, with greatly strengthened commissions for this purpose. To America and the other countries, great and small, it has more to give in this role than as a partisan or belligerent.

3 A new approach to disarmament now. In the three years since effective international control of atomic weapons was first studied, the nature of the problem has changed. Some earlier objections to detailed disarmament proposals have on both sides been recently withdrawn. The time is ripe for fresh discussions, undertaken in good faith, with the intention of proceeding as far and as rapidly as agreements can be achieved. All parties stand to gain from reducing the burden of an arms race. And agreements made in mutual self-interest are longest kept. Such action would quicken the hopes and faith of millions.

4 Economic, financial and technical assistance. Through the United Nations, America should help launch an increased co-operative effort to eradicate poverty and disease. With agreed reduction in armaments, much more of our money, manpower and materials could be pledged to this purpose. Such a program of genuine friendship would build co-operation, courage and self help in areas where otherwise suspicion, hostility and despair are likely to increase. It would substitute plowshares for swords, butter for guns, construction for destruction, friendship for enmity.

These steps are practical. They require no surrender of moral principle, no loss of stature. The American Friends Service Committee believes they represent the voice of reason. Long experience in dealing with people all over the world convinces us that a bold initiative in this direction would call forth widespread support. In this country it would give fresh hope to millions who are troubled and uncertain. Overseas it would be welcomed with relief and with renewed confidence in America's leadership. We have deep faith that such leadership will be found, in government or among our citizenry, to turn the tide of threatened disaster. Now, if ever, is a time for greatness.

Served in 37th New York Volunteer Infantry. Voted straight Republican ever since Lincoln.

Douglas E. Story, 106, Los Angeles. At 16, ran away from home three times to join Union Army. "Just had to defend St. Louis from the Gen. Joe Shelby," he says. His father led the third regiment.

Story fought through war as private, 136th Illinois Infantry. Later, he worked as musician and entertainer aboard Mississippi River steam boats, as a clock repairman and in real estate.

Albert Woolson, 104, Duluth, N. Y. Enlisted as drummer boy, Minnesota Artillery in 1864. Recalls serving in Nashville-Atlanta campaigns. A past national senior vice commander of GAR.

Confederate

Thomas Evans Riddle, 105, Texas Confederate Home for Men. Austin. Spends time playing dominoes with attendant, listening to war news on the radio or taking a slow walk around the yard, using a cane.

A private in the 12th Tennessee Infantry, Riddle fought under Lee at Gettysburg. Made an honorary Texas colonel 89 years later, along with State's two other surviving Confederate veterans.

"People still argue about Gettysburg," Riddle says. "Some say as many as 2,000 were killed. But I know how many were killed. Thirteen, that's all. I was there and we buried every one of them right in the field."

Joseph Haden (Uncle Hade) Whitsett, 103, Bonham, Tex. blind, almost deaf and bedfast. Up till three years ago enjoyed a noisy, knee-slapping round of checkers.

Served 13 months in Shelby's

Escort, Missouri Cavalry, but never fired a shot.

John Salling, 104, Slant, Va. Lives with daughter in mountain cabin. Teeth gone but not sense of humor. Helps tend livestock. Daughter reports:

"Course, he still likes a pretty girl. You ought to see the shines he cuts when he sees one coming up the road. When he gets a spoonful of likker in 'im, he's equal to a Holston preacher. He can preach a sermon then."

Salling never got a Confederate uniform but when the boys in gray came through Scott county, he joined them for a year. His job was digging salt-petre for gunpowder. Never out of State except for 75th Gettysburg anniversary.

John Greene Chisum, 103, Fort Smith, Ark. Lives with wife in abandoned house at old CCC camp. Joined General Price's troops bivouacked near Newport, Ark., but memory of war is hazy. Suffered a stroke two years ago.

Reports his outfit still had plenty of fight left when war ended. "My Uncle Tom Chisum," he recalls, "killed three men with a board the day we surrendered."

William Joshua Bush, 105, Fitzgerald, Ga. Served with Company B, 14th Georgia Regiment. Bush's wife, many years his junior, they were married when he was 76, teaches at a nearby school. Bush is an all-out Democrat with keen interest in public affairs.

George Washington Keith, 102, Graceville, Fla. Enlisted in home guard company in Florida in 1863. Remembers he wasn't captured or wounded.

While most of the nation will pause this Memorial Day to pay tribute to the memory of all those who fought for their country, ever since its founding, President Truman with a few cronies will be enjoying a cruise aboard the Williamsburg on the Potomac river.

Huge Demonstration Against British

Tehran, Iran, May 30 (AP) — A demonstration by 50,000 persons in Tehran Tuesday opened a Communist-front barrage against the British and Americans keyed to the explosive oil issue. Tanks and troop-trucks patrolled the tense capital.

It was the biggest Communist-front demonstration thus far in Tehran, and it was the signal for other demonstrations planned at key points throughout Iran, called by the Communist Tudeh party as a protest against "British-American imperialism."

The Lower House of Parliament, meeting while the demonstrators gathered, voted to extend Iran's martial law to seven points in Khuzistan province, where the oil industry is centered. However, army units ordered into the area at the time of the April riots against the British never have been withdrawn. The prior martial law declaration, which theoretically expired Sunday, still was being enforced there.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil company, chief target of the demonstrators, announced it was authorizing the wives and children of its British, Pakistani and Indian employees to quit Abadan, the oil port, "on leave" at company expense.

SMALL DRAFT CALL

Washington, May 30 (AP) — The army asked yesterday for the draft of 15,000 men in July, the smallest call since the new selective service program began last September. Reduced casualties in Korea and increasing volunteer enlistments were credited for the low quota. The army drafted 80,000 men in each of the first three months this year. It drew 40,000 a month in April and May, fixed a quota of 20,000 for June and 22,000 for August.
